M'MILLAN TO TELL OF FROZEN NORTH HERE ON MARCH 11

Famous Arctic Explorer To Give Lecture In Town Hall

Donald B. MacMillan, Arctic explorer and well known as an authority and lecturer on the frozen north, will give an illustrated lecture in the Town Hall the evening of March 11 on the subject of "The Arctic From the Air," which has to do with his most recent expedition to the Arctic during the past summer.

On his first trip to the North, MacMillan was a member of Peary's successful expedition, but since then has become a hero of Arctic exploration in his own right through his many trips of discovery and scientific research to these regions. He has not undertaken these exploits merely in a spirit of adventure but rather as an agent of the Carnegie Institute, to study the effects of terrestial magnetism and atmospheric electricity. Every year he travels far beyond the Northern Lights to learn new features about this mysterious phenomenon. In all of these trips there is a certain amount of daring and bravery since the ship must be steered solely by the stars because in those regions the magnetism on the compass needle is the object of the study.

"The Bowdoin", on which MacMillan has made many of his trips which served as his headquarters on his recent one, is the smallest ship ever designed for such work, yet at the same time one of the strongest and most perfectly constructed craft of its kind. It is named after his Alma Mater. Every provision is made for the comfort of those aboard. On the last few trips radio has enabled the party of exploration to keep in daily contact with the

COLLEGE BAND PLAYS IN GYM WEDNESDAY

Will Give Home Concert Before Leaving For Two Day Trip

When the Middlebury College Band leaves early next month for its two day concert trip, it will be the first time in the history of Middlebury that such an organization has gone out to represent the college. The present thirty-five piece band is the best, probably, that the college has ever had. It was organized last fall after a period of two years during which there had been no band at all. Before that time only small bands of ten or fifteen pieces had existed here. The success of the new band is due in a large measure to the work of Dean Wiley and Director Lechnyr as well as to the co-operation of the trustees.

The destination of the band will be Glens Falls, N. Y., where it will present its concert program in the large auditorium of the new High school on March 11. Stop-overs will be made in towns on the route where both afternoon and evening performances will probably be given. Features of the program to be presented will be a trumpet solo by Director Lechnyr and selections by the college male quartet composed of Messrs. Bacon, Perrin, Newcomb and Thompson.

For the benefit of the student body and townspeople the band is putting on the concert as it will be given on the trip in the Gymnasium, next Wednesday evening, March 3.

Judges Decide That Best Suggestion For Old Chapel Is That Written By Sara Silverman, '28

Idea Of Transforming Historic Old Room Into Museum Wins First Prize for Co-Ed

A plan submitted by Sara Y. Silverman '28 for transforming the Old Chapel room into a museum, and at the same time, maintaining its original condition, was agreed upon by the judges to be the best of those in the contest to secure ideas for the utilization of the historic old room, it was announced today. Miss Silverman will be awarded the prize of ten dollars offered by President Moody for the best suggestion. Among the other feasible plans which were submitted, the judges decided that the one submitted by William K. Donald '28 was worthy of first honorable mention while that of Storrs Lee '28 took second honorable mention.

The decision was made by a committee of judges made up of Professor W. E. Davison, Professor Everett Skillings and Mr. J. J. Fritz, business manager of the college.

Miss Silverman in describing the way in which she would like to see the Old Chapel arranged, compared it to the Old South Meeting House in Boston which has been restored to its original state and which serves also as a treasure house of historical objects. She suggested that various historical objects connected with Middlebury could be gathered together and put on exhibition in the Old Chapel. Although desiring to see this idea carried out, Miss Silverman believes that some of the old pews should be kept and that as far as possible the room should be restored to the condition it was in when it served as the college chapel. She feels that the Old Chapel room is a vital part of the college and that it would not be desirable to change it in any way that would alter its original nature.

Several other letters contained essentially the same ideas with certain variations. Some believed that it could serve not only as a museum but might be made useful as a place for faculty and student committees to meet. Others wished to see it used as a trophy room. It was also suggested that it be turned over to the public speaking department as a place for practise speeches and intramural debates. A very attractive plan for converting it into a reading library was also submitted. It is a significant fact that no one suggested that the original nature of the Old Chapel be changed by converting it into offices or classrooms.

All of the letters are to be turned over to President Moody in order that the college authorities may consider carefully the details of each. It is probable that the best ideas of several of them may be combined when action is finally taken to make some definite disposition of the room.

Plans Made to Rebuild The Addison House

Plans to purchase the Addison House property, rebuild and equip it as a modern hostelry are under way. Realizing that a modern hotel would be a big asset for Addison county as well as a sound business investment, those interested in the project have secured an option on the Addison house property which expires May 1, 1926. The purchase of the option on the part of the persons interested in the welfare of Middlebury extends over a long period. The progress made represents a community movement and is felt to be most encouraging.

CORRECTION

The baseball game to be played with Williams May 8 will be at Williamstown and not at Middlebury as was announced in last week's issue of the CAMPUS.

Middlebury Favored To Win When Old Rivals Clash For State Honors

The fastest and most bitterly fought basketball game of the season will be staged in the McCullough gymnasium Friday evening when the Black Panther takes the floor against the University of Vermont. Captain Rice's men feel that they can consider the season a success if they win in this one game for it will assure them of a tie for the state championship and will be the first time in years that Middlebury has rated better than second in the quadrangler series in Vermont.

Both teams have established a clear superiority over Norwich and St. Michael's, the two other contenders for the state title. Since the Green and Gold has already defeated the Blue once, a victory in Friday's game would give them undisputed claim to the state championship. If Middlebury should win, though, the two quintets will end the season in tie for the laurels.

From all dope that can be secured, it seems that the outcome of the game will be a tossup until the final whistle has blown. Middlebury, however, is conceded to have a better chance of victory over her old rivals than in any court battle in several years. The game played February 6 in Burlington showed the two teams to be about on a par. At the end of the regular playing time, the score was tied but Vermont found the basket most often in the overtime period and won out 33 to 28. Since then both teams have lost four games and won but two.

It is a significant fact though that the Blue has won her last two games while Vermont has lost her last three If both teams keep up their recent records, a Middlebury victory seems probable. A comparison of the scores made by the two teams aginst the championship M. A. C. quintet seems to favor the Blue and White greatly. Middlebury forced the Aggies to their

SEXTET CLOSES MOST SUCCESSFUL SEASON BY TRIMMING VERMONT FOR SECOND TIME

TEAM WINS MAJORITY OF SEASON'S GAMES

Last Minute Shot Beats Union In Exciting Game Here Monday

The Middlebury sextet brought its most successful season to a close Tuesday afternoon by defeating the University of Vermont 3 to 0 on the home rink and thereby winning the state championship. This was the second victory of the season over Vermont, the team having defeated the Green and Gold at Burlington last week by a 3 to 2 score. The pucksters close their season with a record of five victories and three defeats, those being to Hamilton, Amherst and the Army.

Kelley '29, who has proved to be a consistent offensive star for the team since he became eligible at the beginning of the second semester, again led the Middlebury attack, scoring two of the goals.

Middlebury started the game with a fast offense and after only a minute of play Kelley skated through the Vermont team and scored the first goal. After this score the Vermont defense tightened and the Blue and White pucksters were unable to score again that period. Several long shots were made by both sides but were cleverly stopped by the goalies.

In the beginning of the second period Vermont had her best chance to score. The puck was carried down the rink within scoring distance of the Blue and White's goal. By a clever ruse the Black Panther goalie was drawn from his position leaving the Vermont wing free to score. Twichell however skated in and by clever stick work captured the puck and passed it out of danger. Vermont continued her offense for the remainder of the period but was unable to break through and

PANTHER QUINTET WINS TWO GAMES IN STATE SERIES

Norwich and St. Michael's Both Fall Before Blue Attack

The Black Panther quintet fastened two more claws into its hold on the State Championship by defeating Norwich 27-19 Friday night and following up this win by another Monday night when St. Michael's was downed 34-25 at Winooski.

In both contests the Blue and White clearly outplayed the opponents in every phase of the game and displayed fine teamwork throughout. The Norwich game got away to a slow start but Middlebury soon forged to the fore so that at half time the score stood 15-9 against the cadets. After half time the game livened up considerably but the Middlebury hoopsters were able to keep a safe lead on the cadets. The Blue and White team was somewhat handicapped by the loss of Knowles. Sorenson was again playing at center and accounted for five of the team's floor goals with the Rice brothers, Palmer and Towne adding two each.

The summary follows:

St. Michael's Falls

Monday night Middlebury again asserted her superiority in the state series and even though the game was close at intervals the Blue and White was able to maintain a lead over the Purple and Gold with the exception of the first few minutes when St. Michael's started the scoring after Perrotta had found the basket from mid floor.

Towne then started the Middlebury scoring with a foul and Sorenson put in the first double-counter. R. Rice and Chiplick found the loop. Whalen

HONOR BRIGHT TO BE JUNIOR PLAY

Class of 1927 To Present Three Act Comedy In May

"Honor Bright", a three act comedy by Meridith and Kenyon Nicholson has been chosen as the Junior Play, it was announced by the committee this morning. Its presentation will be one of the big features on the Junior Week program.

The story of the play deals with a young college graduate, the son an aristocratic family, who becomes engaged to one Tats Marvel, a lady of the chorus, much to the deep dismay of his family. The manner in which the young man extricates himself from the embarrassing situation with the help of "Honor Bright" a collegiate book agent lays the foundation for numerous and laughable episodes.

The cast is composed of fifteen persons, of whom nine are men and six are women.

The try-outs for the various parts will be held Monday, March 1st, in the Old Chapel at 1:30 p. m.

Further announcements in regard to this department of Junior Week will be made next week.

TO SKI OR NOT TO SKI

Another winter season has come and now is almost gone and Middlebury has again failed to make the most of her opportunity for the development of winter sports. The past week-end offered the most wonderful winter weather that could have been desired. The air was fresh and crisp and the snow was in perfect condition for all forms of winter sports. It seemed very regrettable that the custom of holding an inter-class winter carnival at this time should have been discontinued. The reason given for not holding a carnival is lack of interest.

Middlebury was not represented at any of the intercollegiate winter carnivals last week nor will she be during the remainder of the season. The reason given is lack of funds.

Judging from the increasing number of students who have their own snowshoes and skis and who go out either singly or in pairs, we believe that with a little stimulation a great deal of interest could be aroused. Yet we are faced with the fact that when tryouts were called a few weeks ago for the Rutland carnival, only five men reported. It seems likely, though, that with a little effort a great deal of interest could be aroused.

The lack of funds offers a more serious problem in the development of this outdoor sport. Of course, each student can buy his own equipment and go out and ski to his heart's content and no college appropriation is necessary. Following the same line of reasoning each student can throw a ball or shoot baskets in the gym to his heart's content. Nevertheless large appropriations are given and spent annually for baseball and basketball. Money must be appropriated for the erection of a suitable ski-jump and for the expenses of a team, if winter sports are ever to thrive.

For the past few years, the student managers have fully realized that the money allotted them has been insufficient to conduct the sport in the proper manner. Some have endeavored to secure greater recognition for the sport, by asking for an increase in the appropriation. Others, though realizing the necessity for action have been discouraged by the poor prospect of ever securing it, and have done nothing. At any rate, it seems that when the time of year comes around for making athletic appropriations, winter sports has no champion, everyone forgets about it and it invariably comes out on the short end of the deal.

It is now too late to remedy the situation as far as the year 1925-1926 is concerned. But right now is the time to start action if we want to have proper attention paid to winter sports next year.

There is no reason why Middlebury should not have a winter sports team next year that can win the second leg on the Rutland carnival cup, and that can compete in the intercollegiate meets on an equal basis with the best of the New England colleges. Neither is there any reason why Middlebury should not have a winter carnival of her own, giving every student an opportunity to display his proficiency in the sport.

Both these aims can be realized if steps are taken this spring to see that proper plans are made. An expression of the will of the undergraduate body in this matter, through the Undergraduate Association, might help materially to bring action.

In closing we wish to again emphasize the statement made in these columns two weeks ago, "Middlebury should give more attention to the sport for which, above all others, she is naturally best fitted."

DESERVED PRAISE

The hockey team richly deserves the most sincere congratulations of the student body. Playing against all sort of disadvantages, the sextet has made a most excellent season's record for itself. To win five out of eight games against the sort of opponents that Middlebury has met this season would be a praiseworthy accomplishment, no matter how good the conditions. But when one considers that the game is still in its infancy here, that there have been barely enough men on the squad to make up a team to scrimmage the varsity, and that the team has been entirely self-coached, one realizes that it really has made a wonderful record. With the sport now firmly established, next season should be even more successful.

FOUR SORORITIES HOLD INITIATIONS

Many Aluni Return For Banquets Held Over the Week-End

The Pi Beta Phi banquet following the initiation was held Saturday at the Congregational church. The long tables were decorated with trailing greens and beautiful wine-colored carnations, some of which were given by the class of '23 in memory of Marion Prince, a graduate of Middlebury and a member of Pi Beta Phi. Barbara Stilpen, a classmate, paid a tribute to the memory of Miss Prince. Frances Caswell, '23, was toastmistress, using the following lines as her thought:

"Friendship is so rare a thing I am loath to bid you pledge yourself with me

Lest I might fail my own high ideal of it."

She compared the growth of Pi Beta Phi with the planting, growing, and beautiful unfolding of a tree. Maude S. Gooding, '03, spoke of the roots, Margaret Sturtevant, '26, Ruth Tupper, '27, Eleanor Holden, '28, and a representative of Vermont Beta Chapter as the branches, Harriet Patterson and Thelma Gates as the twigs, and Mrs. Hathaway as the gardener. A Pi Beta Phi history and song book were presented to Elizabeth Howard, '26, in recognition of her services to the chapter during her four years as a member. Also, Mary Moore, '26, on behalf of the chapter, presented a recognition pin to Virginia Ladd, '29, who had attained the highest average of the freshmen.

At the close of the banquet the loving cup song was sung while the Pi Phi loving cup was passed around.

The annual initiation of the Alpha Pi Chapter of Alpha Xi Delta took place Saturday afternoon. The initiates were Frederika Alexander, Eula Cargill, Muriel Harris, Lucy Humphreys, Ruth Kenney, Rose Marchiano, Bernice Munn, Dorothy Pollard, Frances Spear and Sylvia Westin, all of '29.

Black Cat Orchestra of Stamford, Conn. Plays; Many Out-Of-Town Guests Present

The Alpha Delta Chapter of Alpha Sigma Phi held its annual dinner dance at McCullough Gymnasium Saturday evening. The gym was very prettily decorated in red and gray crepe paper, the stage resembling a garden. The dancing began about 4:30, continuing until 7:30, at which time dinner was served at Hepburn Hall. At this time prizes were given to those who held numbers corresponding to the ones drawn by Mrs. Mason. MacMillan To Lecture Here on Arctic Trips civilized world.

The MacMillan expedition, which left Wiscasset, Maine, in June of last year, was the most ambitious, sensational and comprehensive ever attempted. It had four main objects, exploration by airplane of the vast unknown spaces between Pole and Alaska, navigation by air of the great ice cap of Greenland, with a study of the Great Lake system supposed to exist in the interior of Baffin Land, investigation of the Norse ruins at the head of the deep, narrow fiords of Southern Greenland, and a comparison of these with with those of Labrador.

This expedition was under the auspices of the National Geographic Society with the cooperation of the Navy Department which furnished three giant planes of the new amphibian type, with pilots and mechanics to man them. These were carried north on the Peary, MacMillan's new ship built in France for a mine sweeper but now used as an airplane transport, which was accompanied by the Bowdoin as the headquarters of the expedition.

In his lectures MacMillan is careful to eliminate anything of a technical nature, and little of the research work enters into his talks. But by the spoken word, which in his case is both intriguing and interesting, together with 8000 feet of unusual pictures of every phase of his trips and Arctic life he carries his audience by proxy through a very realistic trip of exploration in the vast snow and ice regions of the Arctic.

Rev. Tertius Van Dyke Speaks at Vesper Service

Declares That Freedom And Service Are Two Greatest Ideals But Must Be Practised Together

"Ye, brethren were called for freedom, only use not your freedom for occasion of the flesh, but through love be servants one to another." This quotation from the thirteenth verse of the fifth chapter of the Epistles to the Galatians was taken by the Reverend Tertius Van Dyke of New York as his text at vespers service Sunday.

He pointed out that freedom and service are the two greatest ideals but that too often one is exalted while the other is forgotten. "They are valuable only as practised together and they lie at the heart of every honest man," declared the speaker. He went on to show that self-slavery means ultimate freedom and that although we may be forced to surrender some liberties for the common good, this ultimately increases our freedom.

This contest is open to all undergraduates of any college in this country who have not placed in a former contest. In order to reach the finals, which will be held in Los Angeles on June 25, a contestant must have qualified to represent his college, been the winner of a sub-division of one of the seven major regions, and then to have been the winner of the major region itself.

Five thousand dollars in prizes have been offered for the seven winners of the contest in Los Angeles. First prize consists of $2000, second prize, $1000, third prize $500, fourth prize, $450, fifth prize $400, sixth prize $350, and seventh prize $300.

The purpose of the national intercollegiate oratorical contest "is to increase interest in the respect for the Constitution of the United States." The contests are financed by the Better America Federation of California as a contribution toward better and more intelligent citizenship.

The subjects must be original and must not require more than ten minutes for delivery, and must be on any one of the following subjects: "The Constitution," "Washington and the Constitution," "Hamilton and the Constitution," "Jefferson and the Constitution," "Marshall and the Constitution," "Franklin and the Constitution," "Madison and the Constitution," "Webster and the Constitution," and "Lincoln and the Constitution."

It is possible that Middlebury may place a contestant in the contest.

Alpha Sigs Win Close Court Battle With K.D.R.

Alpha Sigma Phi turned in its first victory in the interfraternity basketball race when it defeated Kappa Delta Rho 19 to 16 in a close but clumsily played game last night. K. D. R. had a three point lead at the end of the half but was unable to maintain it. Both teams made numerous lucky shots. Hindes was high score man for the losers while the honors were divided among the Alpha Sigs. This game is not included in the league standings published this week.

Groups 1, 2 and 13 are scheduled to present one-act plays before the Dramatic Club in the Playhouse Thursday evening.

HOCKEY TEAM LOSES TO ARMY; BEATS R.P.I.

Cadets Win By 3 to 1 Score; Overtime Period in Troy Game

Panther Loses to Army

Facing the strong Army sextet at West Point last Wednesday, the Blue and White pucksters lost out by the score of 3 to 1, the lrst time this season that they had been beaten by more than one point. The game was close throughout and it was not until the final minutes of play that the Cadets were assured of a victory.

West Point scored early in the first period on a long shot by the center. The remainder of the period was marked by continual attempts at scoring but the fine defense work of Captain McLaughlin and Conley completely frustrated the opponents.

Middlebury tied the score in the first minutes of the third period when Kelley slammed the puck into the strings in sensational style. The Blue's chances of victory were crushed, however, when the Army forward line broke loose and scored twice in succession.

The game, which was slowed up to a large extent by the poor condition of the ice, was played in semi-darkness, the sunset gun of the Academy having boomed early in the first period.

Lineup: Middlebury, Simmons, lw; Kelley, rw; Gruggle, Bossert, c; McLaughlin, ld; Twichell, rd; Conley, g.

Black Panther Downs R. P. I.

The Black Panther hockey team added another to its string of victories when it trimmed Rensselaer at Troy Saturday by the score of 2 to 1. The game was exceedingly rough and close and it ook an overtime period to decide it. There were numerous penalties on both sides.

Gruggel '29, scored the first goal for Middlebury shortly after the first period had opened. The remainder of that period and all of the next was scoreless with both sides evenly matched. Farquar, who starred for R. P. I. throughout the game, evened the score for his team when he shot the puck into the net just before the game ended, making it necessary to play an extra period.

The winning goal was scored by Simmons when he made a nice shot after a few minutes of scrimmage in the overtime period.

Captain McLaughlin played his usual excellent game at left defense for Middlebury while Farquar starred for the opponents.

TWO CLOSE GAMES IN LEAGUE SERIES

D. K. E. Wins Out Over Chi Psi; Beta Kappa Rallies But Loses to S. P. E.

D. K. E. safely maintained its leadership in the interfraternity league when it defeated Chi Psi by the score of 20 to 17 in a close and exciting game played last Wednesday evening. The losers maintained a lead for the greater part of the game but lost out in the final minutes of play. There were no individual stars on either team.

Playing against Sigma Phi Epsilon last Thursday evening Beta Kappa made a strong bid to win its first game of the season but the pace which they set in the opening period of the game proved to be too much and the Sig Eps won by a 29 to 24 score. The game was very fast, the Beta Kappa's starting out by piling up a large margin. S. P. E. then rallied and tied the score and a few well-placed shots near the end of the game gave them the victory.

utmost to win by the close score of 16 to 14. Playing on the same floor Saturday evening, Vermont was decisively beaten by a 30 to 12 score.

Until its trip through southern New England over the past week-end, Vermont had been considered as one of the contenders for the New England title. However, three defeats were sustained in four days, putting them out of the running for that honor. Both Connecticut Aggies and Springfield, as well as M. A. C., handed defeats to the Green and Gold but only by close scores. Springfield won Monday 35 to 32 and Connecticut Aggies won 47 to 41 in an overtime game.

It is probable that Vermont's regular lineup will start the game, with Post and Prentice at forwards, Marvin center and Katz and Price guards. The combination works well together for four of the men have been on the same team since High school days.

The Middlebury lineup which will start the game will not be certain until shortly before the game Friday. The illness of Knowles weakened the team somewhat against Norwich and St. Michael's but it seems almost certain that the veteran guard will be able to play the full game against Vermont. "Al" did not make the trip to Northfield, remaining indoors over the week-end. He went with the team to Winooski Monday but played for only a few minutes, conserving his energies for Friday. If he is in condition to play, Coach Hargreaves may use him either at center or guard. If he plays in the former position Hasseltine will be in the back court, but in the other case, Sorenson will be at center. The remainder of the lineup will be as usual, Captain "Shorty" Rice at guard and "Bill" Rice and Towne at forwards.

The team has not had one of its "on" nights on the home floor this season and figures that it is time that it should have a turn of luck and be at the top of its form for the home crowd.

The season will come to a close next Tuesday night when St. Michael's plays here. Judging on the basis of Monday's game, the Blue should have little difficulty in winning again, thus closing its season with a victory.

Sextet Closes Season By Defeating Vermont

the period ended without a score.

At the beginning of the third period Kelley again broke loose and scored his second goal. The Vermont team rallied after this and for a time it looked as though they might score. Only the exceptional work of Conley at goal kept the opponents from shoving the puck into the net. Just before the final whistle blew, Bossert '29 captured the puck and after skating past the Vermont wings, scored the third goal.

Middlebury was especially strong on the defense with Captain McLaughlin, Twichell and Conley playing exceptionally good games. Winchenback was the outstanding player for Vermont.

The summary:

Middlebury		Vermont
Simons, Jason, lw	rw,	Fitch, Kimball
Bossert, Burrough, rw	lw,	Wood
Kelley, c	c,	Herbert
Capt. McLaughlin, ld.,	rd,	Denning

Last Minute Shot Beats Union

Playing for the first time this season on the home rink, the Black Panther pucksters won out over Union Monday afternoon by a 4 to 3 score. The game was exciting from start to finish for the lead continually changed hands and the winning goal was not scored until the last fifteen seconds of play.

The excitement which ran through the entire game, started in the first few minutes when Gilmore shot from the boards to Clifford, who was directly in front of the cage and who relayed the puck into the strings for the first counter. The Blue retaliated a few minutes later when Twichell shot half the length of the ring to tie the score. There was no further scoring in the first period.

Play was fast and furious in the second period and in the last minutes of play Union again took the lead when Hyland shot over the head of the Middlebury goalie for his team's second tally.

The third period was the most closely contested of the game. Twichell again tied the score when he made his second shot on another long one. This was followed by another Middlebury tally when Kelley scored on a neat pass from Gruggel who had taken the puck around behind the goal. The lead did not last long though, for a scramble in front of the Middlebury cage resulted in another Union tally, making the score three all. With prospects of an overtime game in sight, Simmons shot down left wing to score the winning goal. Before the puck could be put into play again the whistle sounded.

The game was won by Middlebury's superior defensive work. Twichell and McLaughlin consistently broke up the Union attack and when the opponents did get an opportunity to shoot, the puck was warded off harmlessly by Conley.

The lineup:

Middlebury		Union
Simmons, Jason, lw	rw,	Clifford
Gruggel, rw	lw,	Gilmore
Kelley, Bossert, c	c,	Hyland
McLaughlin, ld	rd,	Kellogg
Twichell, rd	ld,	Slattery, McCabe
Conley, g	g,	Harcourt

Goals, Twichell 2, Kelley, Simmons, Clifford, Gilmore, Hyland.

Referee, Whittemore; Timer, Schaefer, time, three 15-minute periods.

added one point and then Towne added four, making the score 11-5 in Middlebury's favor. The Michaelmen, however, rallied and on baskets by Carmody, Petras and Chaplick, the score was tied. Petras, W. Rice, Sorenson and R. Rice helped swell the score for the half-time to 17-13 in favor of the Black Panther team.

The second half was but two seconds long when W. Rice swelled the Blue and White lead by two points. During this half, his brother brought his total of double-counters to six, and Towne and Carmody played good games. By changes and substitutions both quintets presented changed line-ups at the end of the contest.

Hasseltine played an exceptionally good game at guard, time after time breaking up the Purple's attempts to score. "Shorty" Rice again led the team in scoring.
